School News

We hope you had a lovely break. We have an exciting term ahead with themes around polar exploration and freezing environments. (Let's hope we don't experience these too much locally!). Our new class arrangements are proving popular with the children too.

Panto Trip

This trip is on ParentPay; thank you to the parents who have paid a voluntary contribution. Although this is voluntary, we do hope parents will feel they can contribute. Currently, 28% of parents have kindly donated, which is considerably lower than usual. We do rely on these contributions as we are unable to run school education visits without them and we aim to have at least one per term.
